

Emma Marvin
Butternut Mountain Farm
Morrisville, VT

Emma joined the family business in 2004 after having worked for a non-profit environmental education and research organization in Northern Vermont for several years. Having worked in a number of capacities at Butternut Mountain Farm Emma currently oversees retail operations, marketing and special projects. She serves on the Vermont Maple Foundation and Friends of Green River Reservoir Boards. Emma is a graduate of Cornell University with a degree in Natural Resource Management. She lives in Hyde Park, Vermont with her husband and two daughters.